GOVERNOR ON ANNEXATION DAY

Chief Executive Refers to Doubt as to When Hawaii Became a Territory of the United States.

"A good day to celebrate," was what Governor Frear said this morning when he was asked if he had any luminous idea on the annexation day—August 12th—and its significance for memorial observance by the people of the Territory of Hawaii.

"It is undecided just when we were annexed to the United States," continued the Governor. "The actual transfer of sovereignty occurred eleven years ago tomorrow, but the treaty of annexation was approved on July 7th. As a consequence, everyone is not sure just when the annexation occurred, but for all purposes the 12th of August has been assumed to be the date that Hawaii was actually annexed."

Governor Frear did not know of any plans for celebration and intimated that the observance of the day last year, the tenth anniversary was a time when special significance naturally accompanied the day.

REMAINS OF HIGH CHIEFESS AT REST

An impressive funeral took place yesterday afternoon when the remains of Mrs. A. C. Simerson, wife of Captain Simerson of the Mauna Loa, were laid to rest in the Kawaiahao Cemetery.

The deceased was a chiefess of high rank, and was related to the most prominent families of Hawaii. The honorary pall-bearers were Col. Curtis P. Iaukea, Sheriff Wm. P. Jarrett, Mayor Jos. J. Fern, Capt. Clarke, Wm. J. White, Robt. Walua, Geo. W. Buckley, and Jas. Robertson.

The casket bearers were Jesse Nakamaui, Ed. Hamakua, St. C. Piliavala, Sam Kamaiohili, A. K. Hoapili, Wm. Beckley, Kawelookalani Keolohapuaole, and Duke Kahunaonuku.

The funeral services at the Catholic Cathedral were most impressive, and at 2:30 o'clock the cortege entered the building. A beautiful token of remembrance was sent in by the Harbor No. 54, American Association of Masters, Mates, and Pilots, of which Captain Simerson is a member, and it consisted of a broken floral anchor.

SOCIAL PROBLEM OF CONGRESSMEN

Another Meeting of Reception Committee Will Be Held Next Week—Prince Kuhio a Host.

The social program for the visiting delegation of Congressmen is the problem that is just now being considered by the executive committee that will decide definitely upon the program as far as the island of Oahu is concerned.

"We will hold another meeting as soon as the other islands are heard from, and then decide definitely on the arrangements that are to be made," said Governor Frear this morning.

The Governor stated that one of the features of the Congressional visit two years ago was the reception that was tendered to the visitors by the Delegate to Congress, and it is proposed to have another reception by Prince Kuhio just before the delegation takes leave of the Territory.

Mayor Fern was in consultation with the Governor this morning in connection with the big luncheon that he plans to give, and asked the advice of the Chief Executive on several of the social problems involved in the affair.

WHAT ARMY AND NAVY FOLK ARE DOING

Denver Coming.

The cruiser Denver will be detached from the third squadron of the Pacific fleet at Manila and sent to Mare Island, via Honolulu, for repairs. Repairs are to be made on the bottom sheathing. The Cleveland may also follow the Denver to the coast, and later the Chattanooga and Galveston will come.

It is planned by the Department to keep vessels of a distinctive type together, and for this reason the four ships will eventually be brought together again.

Starts on Walk.

Rear-Admiral E. Barry, commanding the second division of the Pacific fleet, started on his fifty-mile walk which the Navy Department has ordered must be completed within three days. Barry is going over the same course as that walked by Rear-Admiral Phelps.

Commander Leo Anderson of the ordnance department at the navy yard will do his exercise on a bicycle and will ride ninety miles over the roads in California.

Haystack Masts.

The cruisers Tennessee, Washington, Colorado and Pennsylvania will spend from six to eight months in the Puget Sound yard, next year, during which time "haystack" masts will be installed fore and aft on the vessels. According to officers, the contract will call for six months' work, and it is likely that eight months will be consumed in making the changes.

The new style of masts consists of a high conning tower, constructed of a framework of steel tubings. On top of the mast is a platform for the fire-control officer, who communicates with all parts of the ship by telephone. Every tube making up the mast contains a telephone wire, so that the mast would have to be entirely shot away before communication would be broken.

Mokuleia Selected.

Mokuleia, Oahu, T. H., is designated as the station of First Lieut. Thomas H. Cunningham, 5th Cavalry, from June 15, while on duty in connection with the Progressive Military Map of the U. S., under instructions of Par. 3, S. O. 75, Dept. of Cal., April 6, 1909.

First Sgt. Heinrich C. Boehm, Troop D, 5th Cavalry, upon the receipt of this order, will be placed upon the retired list.

"Travel to Hawaii still keeps up in a most satisfactory manner, with the outlook for a record-breaking winter travel brightening right along," is the introductory paragraph of Secretary Wood's letter to the Promotion Committee.

A dog alleged to belong to Captain Walker is said to have rushed out on the Kalua road and bitten a man named Lancaster on the calf of the leg. Lancaster has had to see a doctor about the wound and is at present wondering how the dog is.

A stipulation was today filed in the Supreme Court of the Territory allowing briefs in the case of Jim Ah Hoi, plaintiff-appellee, and H. Raymond, defendant-appellant, to be filed by August 23.

The jury in the murder trial of Dr. G. K. Boyajian of Detroit, who shot and killed his nephew, Harroten Gostanian, disagreed and was discharged. Dr. Boyajian shot Gostanian while his nephew and the doctor's wife were being arraigned in court on a statutory charge.

STRICT CUSTOM ORDER ISSUED

Uncle Sam Lays Down the Law in Regard to Sending Articles Through the Mail—Complaints.

According to a new order just received by the postoffice here, Uncle Sam has pulled in his reins tighter on customs regulations. Complaint has been made by the Treasury Department that mail originating on board United States naval vessels and containing matter supposed to be liable to United States customs duty, frequently reaches the addressee without previously having been submitted to a customs official.

Navy mail clerks will indorse all matter mailed on board United States naval vessels, which they have reason to believe may possibly contain matter subject to United States customs duty, with the words, "Supposed liable to customs duty," before dispatching such mail.

Unsealed pieces, registered and unregistered, received from United States naval vessels and marked "Supposed liable to customs duty," will be treated as follows:

Unsealed articles, both registered and ordinary (except registered articles enclosed in registered package envelopes) will be examined by customs officials at the original exchange office of receipt.

If unsealed registered and unregistered pieces are accompanied by mail entries when received at the final office of delivery, showing that customs duty has been assessed on their contents prior to their receipt at the postoffice of delivery, they will be delivered to the addressee upon payment of the duty assessed. Such pieces will also be delivered to the addressee without submission to a customs official if they are indorsed to indicate that they have previously been examined by a customs officer and passed free of duty.

If there is no customs officer in the city in which the postoffice of delivery is located, the sealed pieces, after being opened by the addressee or their authorized representatives, will be forwarded, under official registration, to the postmaster at the city where the nearest customs officer is located for submission to such official. If the contents of the pieces are found to be dutiable, the customs official will issue mail entries and return the pieces, with the entries, through the postmaster at the city in which the customs officer is located, to the postmaster at the postoffice of delivery, who will collect the customs charges and transmit them, with the mail entries, by registered mail, to the customs official who issued the entries.

MA-IN-LAW ASKS THAT CASE BE DROPPED

"Now, look here, George McGowan, you leave your mother-in-law alone in future. The fact that you happened to marry her daughter does not entitle you to strike her." Thus said Judge Andrade to the defendant in an assault and battery case at the police court this morning.

It appears that McGowan had a row with his wife's mother on account of some family trouble. The mother-in-law came to the sheriff and swore out a complaint to the fact that McGowan had "beaten, bruised, kicked and otherwise assaulted her."

On the strength of this complaint McGowan was arrested and appeared in court this morning. The complaining witness then said that she wished to drop the case, and Prosecutor Brown asked that the case be nolle prossed; this was done, and McGowan left in company with his mother-in-law.

REASONS FOR NEW CORPORATION OUT

Two Irrigation Companies Whose Control Was Vested in Parker Concern, Consolidated to Avoid Law Suit.

The agreement which served as a foundation for incorporating the great Parker Irrigation Company, Ltd., last week was today filed in the Bureau of Conveyances, bearing the date of June 22. There for the first time are set forth the motives that led to the practical consolidation of the Kohala Ditch Company and the Hawaiian Irrigation Company, and according to the wording of the agreement it was to prevent the institution of lawsuits in the future, made probable by the close proximity of the water holdings of the two companies.

Following is the summary of articles of agreement:

For and in consideration of the mutual convenience and agreements and the sum of one dollar by Parker to McCrosson in hand paid, Parker will turn over to a corporation to be incorporated under the laws of the Territory by charter 40,000 shares of the capital stock of Kohala Ditch Co. of the par value of $402,000 on the basis of its contemplated increase of capitalization to $800,000, or in the event that said capitalization shall not increase then to turn over 25,100 shares of the par value of $251,000. McCrosson on his part engages to turn over to the same corporation 62,600 shares of the capital stock of Hawaiian Irrigation Co. of the par value of $626,000.

Parker and McCrosson agree that the stock shall be divided as follows: To McCrosson, 60,100 shares of the par value of $10 each, equal to $601,000.

To Parker, 59,900 shares, of $599,000 par value.

The unissued shares of stock, 30,000 shares of $300,000 par value, to remain in the treasury for the benefit of the corporation.

Each of them shall out of their shares of stock deposited with Henry Waterhouse Trust Co., Ltd., to be retained by it for the period of twenty years from and after the death of either party to the agreement—by Parker 37,900 shares valued at $379,000, and by McCrosson 38,100 shares valued at $381,000—the certificate or certificates evidencing such shares to be endorsed with certain words, given, showing them to have been issued in accordance with this agreement.

Out of the remainder of shares there shall be placed with Henry Waterhouse Trust Co. 900 shares which shall be held by it for the purpose of paying claims and obligations due from and entered into by Parker and McCrosson in promotion of the two ditch companies, and the remainder of the shares, 65,000, value of $650,000, shall be divided equally between Parker and McCrosson, provided that if these 900 shares or any portion thereof shall not within a reasonable time, to be determined by Parker and McCrosson.

POLICE COURT JOTTINGS.

Emma Hookano, who kept everybody within a mile of her home awake last night by the hideous yells that emanated from her, tried to explain to Judge Andrade that she was only singing, but that excuse did not work, and Emma had to dig up five hard-earned plunks before she was allowed to depart.

J. Harrison, the "touch" artist, who was caught red-handed yesterday, was up before Judge Andrade this morning and was given the rest cure to the tune of 30 days.

Clyde W. Gavin and Eleanor Anderson have been charged by the husband of Eleanor with an illicit love affair. It appears that Nell did washing for Clyde W., and the husband alleges that there were moments when the wash tub was deserted and amorous dalliance indulged in.

This is denied by both the interested parties, and the case was put over till Friday next.

Seventeen Chinese gamblers who were arrested yesterday were up before the court this morning, but as their attorney, C. F. Chillingworth, asked for a continuance, the cases were set over till August 13.

The Bar Association banquet is to be held Saturday evening, although a determined effort was made to have it postponed because of the fact that its date conflicted with a "ring affair" that many of the local barristers wished to attend.

W. S. Westcott, mill engineer at Punene, arrived on the Claudine this morning. Mr. Westcott comes to Honolulu for medical treatment, his nose having been injured in a runaway.
